

Summer School Alpbach 2011

„Star Formation across the Universe“

July 19-28, Alpbach/Tyrol - Austria

The 2011 Summer School Alpbach will address innovative mission concepts aiming to increase our knowledge of key processes of star formation. The lectures will give an overview of the current knowledge of star formation on all scales as well as an overview over current missions and techniques. 60 European science and engineering students will learn how to approach the design of a satellite mission and explore new ideas supported by experts. 4 teams will compete to design a space mission each, judged by a jury.

The Summer School Alpbach is open to students and graduates from ESA member and cooperating states.

Application deadline:
March 31, 2011
